HOW TO TELL YOUR DATA STORY

What is a data story? It is simply using numbers to show quantitative data of what you do all school year long. It should not be tedious but FUN!

Here are some examples of things you may have accomplished this year. You can fill in the blanks using a simple estimation to get your data. This is nothing fancy.

READING TEACHER DATA STORY EXAMPLE

For example, if you do something with your 20 students for 20 minutes per day and they have school for about 180 days, you influenced those students for 72,000 minutes!

WAIT WHAT? – let's check that: 20 students x 20 minutes per day =400 minutes of reading per day x 180 days = 72,000 minutes of reading!

Reading Teacher Data Story: My students have read for 72,000 minutes this school year!

Fill in your blanks: _____# of students x _____# of minutes practiced per day x 180 days per school year = AMAZING WORK!

MAKE A BULLETIN BOARD TO DISPLAY YOUR DATA STORY

See how fun this is! Wouldn't it be AMAZING to have a bulletin board at school for everyone to add notes to share their data story? You can use these FREE printables to start creating your data story to show everyone how you and your students are MAKING BIG THINGS HAPPEN!

SHARE YOUR DATA STORY - Print the following pages (choose lined or unlined and large or small data story pages) and paste together the banner. Display your accomplishments on the bulletin board or wall at your school!
